Procedures for Temporary Leave of Absence and Studying Abroad in the Spring Semester (PEARL)

When you submit an application to study abroad or a request for a Temporary Leave of Absence, you are required to schedule an academic consultation.

Of the students planning to travel overseas during a Temporary Leave of Absence or due to study abroad in the Spring Semester, those who will depart from Japan between mid-February and the end of March must collect the designated form from the Faculty of Economics counter at the Hiyoshi Office of Student Services by no later than the end of January, and make an appointment for an academic consultation.

Even when students have already collected the designated form, if they have yet to determine the date and time for the academic consultation they must come to the counter and make an appointment before the start of the semester-end examinations period.

Because there are limited opportunities to hold the consultation during the Spring break, please carry out the necessary procedures for making an appointment as soon as possible.
